

The Acorn Partnership
Marston Montgomery Primary School
Long Lane C of E Primary School

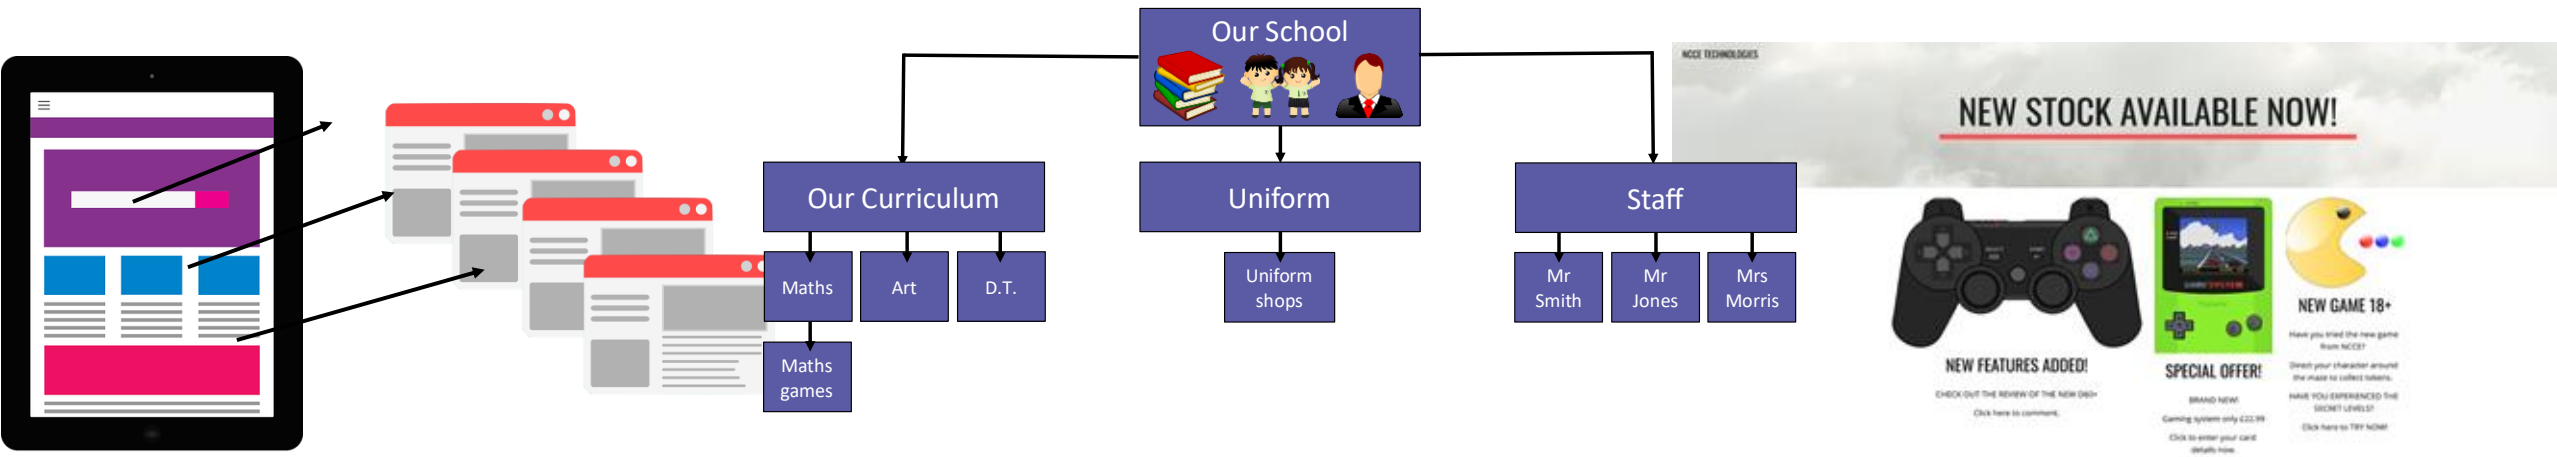

Creating media - Web page production

New Knowledge

- I know HTML is how websites are written and that websites have different types of media on them.
- I know web pages have different features such as headers and can draw a layout for this.
- I know that copyright is where someone own that piece of work and that I should use copyright free images.
- I know I web pages are previewed to check for any mistakes and to make sure they work and can evaluate my own webpage.
- I know what a navigation path is and can use hyperlinks to create my own navigation path between web pages.

Sticky learning

- I know what WWW. stands for.
- I know websites are shared via www. and the type of media that is stored on the www. (e.g. videos, websites and images)
- I know anyone can add content to the internet and this means it is not always accurate.

Key Vocabulary

Hypertext Markup Language (HTML)	HTML is like the secret code that tells a computer how to show words, pictures, and colours on a webpage.
Browser	A browser is a special program (like Chrome or Safari) that lets you visit websites and explore the internet.
Header	A header is the top part of a webpage or a document that usually has a title or important information.
Website	A website is like a digital book or a house on the internet, filled with different pages you can visit.
Web page	A document on the World Wide Web
Copyright	Copyright means that someone owns their work (like a story, picture, or song), and others can't use it without permission.
Fair Use	Fair use means that sometimes, small parts of copyrighted work can be used for things like school projects, news, or teaching, but only in the right way.
Home Page	The home page is the main page of a website, like the front door to a house, where you start exploring.
Preview	A preview is a sneak peek of something before it is finished, like watching a short part of a movie before seeing the whole thing.
Hyperlink	A hyperlink is a special word, picture, or button on a website that you can click to jump to another page.
Subpage	A subpage is a smaller page inside a website, like a chapter in a book, that gives more