

Sticky Knowledge – What I already know

- I recognise that we can have things in common with others.
- I can demonstrate skills in building friendships and cooperation.
- I know the key differences between teasing, being unkind and bullying
- I can celebrate and begin to show empathy for those who are different.
- I can identify those who are special to them (and their special qualities).
- I can explain how it feels to be part of a group and left out of a group.

Key Knowledge – What I will know at the end of the unit

- I will know there are differences between people that are not always respected
- I can identify different origins, national, regional, ethnic and religious backgrounds and define the word respect.
- I can understand and identify stereotypes, including those promoted in the media.
- I know that the information we see online, either text or images, is not always true or accurate.
- I know about and describe different types of friendships and relationships and their differing positive qualities.
- I know that all people are unique but that we have far more in common with each other than what is different about us
- I know what prejudice is

Key Question Themes

- Recognising and Celebrating Difference, Including Religions and Cultural
- Knowing about the Influence and Pressure of Social Media
- Understanding and Challenging Stereotypes
- Recognising and Respecting Diversity
- Being Respectful and Tolerant

Key Vocabulary	Definition
prejudice	A person is prejudiced when s/he has formed an attitude towards a particular social group of people before having enough information on which to form a knowledgeable opinion.
disability	When someone has a part of their body or mind that works differently and might make certain things harder for them to do.
gender	Whether someone is a boy, a girl, both, or neither.
race	A way to describe groups of people who have similar physical features, like skin color, hair type, or facial features, and often come from similar parts of the world.
colour	Different people have different skin colour
sexuality	Who someone loves or likes in a special way.
similarities	The ways that things or people are alike or have things in common differences	The ways that things or people are not the same respect	Treating others kindly and thinking about their feelings
stereotype	A simple idea that says all people in a group are the same, even though they're not
Sex	Refers to the biological differences between boys and girls

Key Vocabulary	Definition
sexual orientation	Who someone feels a special attraction or love for gender identify	How someone feels inside about being a boy, a girl, both, or neither.
gender expression	How someone shows their gender to the world through things like their clothing, hairstyle, behaviour, and interests.
relationships	The connections and bonds we have with other people.
friend	Someone you like to spend time with, who makes you feel happy and safe.
acquaintance	Someone you know, but not very well.
unique	Being one of a kind or special in your own way identity	Who you are and what makes you, you
prejudice	Having a negative opinion or judgment about someone or a group of people without really knowing them.
respect	Treating others the way you want to be treated diversity	Having a variety of different people, cultures, and ideas in one place tolerance	Being accepting and respectful of people who are different from you.